

Listing controls allow you to display Kentico pages and their data on your website. Most of the controls inherit from a corresponding Basic control.

The controls provide the following features:

- Built-in data sources that load Kentico pages. You do not need to write code for retrieving and binding the data.
- Support for Kentico transformations. This allows you to format the data output according to the transformations defined in the system for individual page types.
