

In this chapter, you can find information and examples about the customization options available for processes and calculations related to the shopping cart.

Customizing the shopping cart calculation

Learn how to customize the shopping cart calculation engine, which determines how the system processes shopping cart data during checkout and when creating or editing orders.

Retrieving the current shopping cart

Find out how the system retrieves the current customer's shopping cart by default, and learn how to change the behavior.

Customizing marking shopping carts as abandoned

Modify which shopping carts are considered as abandoned for your on-line marketing automation processes.