

Kentico allows you to create various events on your website. Visitors of the website can view these events in a calendar and register for them. You can set various properties for each event, such as the maximum capacity or the time a registration for and event opens and closes.

To start working with events:

- Create events
- Manage existing events and event attendees

A calendar displaying events on a page

https://docs.xperience.io