You can allow group members to create group media libraries directly on the live site using one of the following web parts:

- The Group profile web part allows users to manage a whole group, including the media libraries belonging to the group.
- The Group media libraries web part allows users to manage the media libraries of a specific group.

Putting the Group profile/Group media libraries web part on your web page

1. Open the Pages application.
2. Choose the page on which you want to place the web part.
3. Switch to the Design tab.
4. Place the web part that you want to use to a content area of your choice. You can either use the Group profile web part or the Group media libraries web part. The Web part properties dialog box opens.
5. Under Community, specify the Group name from which you want to manage the media libraries.
6. Save & Close.

You have placed the Group profile/Group media libraries web part on the web page.